Renishaw's policy for RoHS (EU)

Renishaw's products fall into several different product categories according to the EU 'RoHS' Directive 2011/65/EU, "on the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment (recast)". All Renishaw products within the scope of 2011/65/EU and placed on the market after the deadline for the relevant category are compliant with the requirements of 2011/65/EU, including 2015/863/EU.

This Directive further requires that product conformity to RoHS is communicated by means of the CE mark and associated Declaration of Conformity. As such, customers that require specific information on the status of a given product should refer to the EU Declaration of Conformity for the product in question. These can be found at www.renishaw.com/compliance or via your local Renishaw representative.

As noted above, compliance will be communicated by means of CE Marking and a Declaration of Conformity.

Should you have any further questions relating to RoHS, REACH, SCIP, please visit our Product Environmental Compliance web page Product Environmental Compliance \(renishaw.com\) or contact productsafety@renishaw.com

Yours sincerely,
